ANTITRUST

We operate in administrative litigation, with expertise in representing clients before the Brazilian Administrative Council for Economic Defense (CADE), especially in investigations, administrative proceedings, proposals for leniency and settlement of agreements, and in judicial litigation, with the aim of repairing any damages caused by anticompetitive practices. We advise on structuring and reviewing commercial policies and practices, as well as compliance programs to mitigate competition risks. In addition, we assist our clients on other matters related to competition law, including notifications to third parties.
